

Ben Widdicombe

GATECRASHER

New York Minute

Sunday, January 27th 2008, 4:00 AM

- ▶ "Let yourself be charmed by an Italian," is the catch phrase for a new campaign promoting Italian fashion, fronted by Isabella Rossellini. Which, if you remember the scandal when her mom (Ingrid Bergman) began an adulterous affair with her dad (Roberto Rossellini), is kind of an interesting choice of words. "It is a perfect fit for me to be selected a spokesperson for the made-in-Italy campaign, considering that these are my two countries - Italy and the U.S.," she told us at the launch of "Made in Italy," also attended by actor Alan Cumming, Ambassador and Trade Commissioner Umberto Vattani, and UN General Assembly President Srgjan Kerim.

Napolitano/FilmMagic

Isabella Rosellini